

How can private industries influence education around the world?

- Looking for patterns in public vs. private investments
- Incentives for companies to sponsor students and invest in education
- Benefits for both students and companies

